Course Overview

- 3 (three) How to Train Other Adult Hours
- Audience: Trainers

Course Description

In this three-hour course, learners will examine 4 tools you can use to develop and deliver online presentations: Haiku Deck, Prezi, Google Slides, and SlideShare.
Much of the work in this course will be done on your own. Throughout the course, you will be introduced to four (4) new online presentation tools. After each introduction, you will then complete an application activity using the tool and create a presentation. These application activities are meant for you to explore each program to understand its features. As a final application activity, you will be asked to write a review and include what you liked and did not like.
Each section will also include a practical application activity using the tool and learners will also complete a final course application activity.
